

Hams To Offer Weekly School

6-2-57

Tri-State Amateur Radio Society, in cooperation with the Community Center, will start classes Wednesday for anyone wishing to become an amateur radio operator.

Classes will meet at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday in the center, for instruction on International Morse Code, Federal Communications Commission regulations, and technical information necessary to obtain an operator's license.

For additional information, call Ray Miller, president of the society, at GR 6-1963.

Radio 'Hams' To Hear Speaker Here Monday

Tri-State radio 'hams' will meet Monday to hear George Hart, national emergency co-ordinator of the American Radio Relay League.

6-1-57

Mr. Hart will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center. About 70 members of the Tri-State Amateur Radio Society are expected to attend. TARS is sponsoring the visit of the West Hartford, Conn., speaker.

Mr. Hart's topic will concern the amateur's role in providing emergency communications.
